ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF MANAGERS

OF THE

NEW-YORK CITY

COLONIZATION SOCIETY.

PRESENTED MAY, 1840.

NEW-YORK:

ALEXANDER S. GOULD, PRINTER, 144 NASSAU-STREET.

REPORT.

The Board of Managers cannot present to the Society this their Eighth Annual Report, without renewing their expressions of gratitude, to that beneficent being, whose blessing has obviously crowned their exertions during another year. We have the pleasure of assuring the Society, that at no period since the commencement of our operations, have our prospects in Africa been more encouraging than at present. Under the smiles of a benignant Providence, and the liberality of our friends, the cause of colonization is constantly assuming a more interesting aspect, and recommending itself to the confidence and patronage of a benevolent public. Notwithstanding the appalling pressure which has been felt, and is still felt, through every department of society, and which has paralyzed the energies of our most enterprising citizens, and arrested in some degree the operations of kindred institutions, our receipts as will appear from the annexed report of the Treasurer, reflect honor on the zeal of the friends of Africa, and evince a growing solicitude for the redemption of her oppressed population. Very liberal contributions have also been made during the year by gentlemen in Vermont, in Connecticut, in Rhode Island, in Massachusetts and other parts of our country, by which means the debt under which the Parent Society has been laboring for some years is much reduced, and we have reason to hope that it will be entirely cancelled before the recurrence of another anniversary. It may also be interesting for the Society to know that a union is now effected between this and the Pennsylvania with the Parent Colonization Society at Washington, and by this co-operation we have reason to hope that the enterprise will be prosecuted with increased vigor.

The Ship Saluda, (purchased by the friends of colonization) to be employed as a Packet between this country and Liberia, and managed principally by colored men, has already performed several prosperous voyages, and in the course of a single year has left our shores with three expeditions of emigrants, for the homes of their ancestors. She sailed from Norfolk, Virginia, on the 21st of February, and on the 7th of August 1839, and again on the 15th February, 1840. This last was the largest expedition which has for a long time left our shores, and consisted of emigrants from Kentucky and Virginia, principally emancipated for the purpose of Colonizing, with a few colored passengers from the State of Georgia.

With no ordinary emotions of pleasure, and with feelings of gratitude to the munificent Author of every blessing, we inform the Society, and all who have contributed to the support of the enterprize that from intelligence received through every channel from our settlements on the coast of Africa; from our devoted and indefatigable Governor Buchanan; also, from our missionaries and emigrants, every thing connected with the scheme, is calculated to secure confidence in its practicability and excellence, and to inspire the hope that through its instrumentality, much may be accomplished for meliorating the condition of the African race on both continents. The colonists are blessed with the enjoyment of health, they are now directing their attention with encreasing ardor to the cultivation of the soil as the principal source of their independence; primary schools, and those also of a higher order are established under the superintendence of competent instructors, and continue to flourish, and revivals of religion through the divine blessing on the labors of Missionaries, both white men and colored, have been experienced during the last year. In his communication of August, 1839, Govr. Buchanan gives the following account of our settlements, "with regard to the state of affairs, the inhabitants I am happy to say have generally enjoyed good health, and are industriously engaged in the cultivation of their farms; they rise early and stay late on their plantations, working with a noble determination for a future season. I passed one the other day of 150 acres, which had been cleared since 1st of January, and was receiving the seed. There is probably as much more of the new farms cleared in the same time. The inhabitants of this colony, are not inferior to any population on the earth in point of morals and public spirit, and it only requires proper management at home, and suitable direction here, to bring them rapidly to a high point on the scale of national consequence."

The friends of colonization will read with high interest, the following description which he has recently given of his own garden.

"I am making an extensive garden, into which I wish to collect specimens of all kinds of African fruit, flowers, and plants, so that foreigners may see at the Government House a fair sample of the beauties and excellencies of our country. I have already growing the tamarind, cinamon, orange, lemon, lime, sour-sop, guava, pine-apple, coffee, pawpaw, grape, (both African and European) cocoa, koko, pepper, arocador pear, rose apple, American peach, mango and cashew. These are my fruits. I have also a great variety of vegetables and flowers. The cane field is in a fine state, and exhibits a most luxuriant growth; many of the stocks are ten and twelve feet high: this, for the second year, I am told is very remarkable. I am clearing the ground, and have a number of hands employed in planting, with a view to extend the plantation to a hundred acres as soon as possible."

The following testimony honorable to the intellectual, moral, and political character of our colonies is borne by Mr. Buxton, a distinguished Philanthropist of England, whose attention has long been devoted to the most eligible and efficient means of meliorating the miseries of the colored race; he is President of the Society in Great Britain, for the Abolition of Slavery. "Liberia," he mentions, "presents the example of a black community managing their own affairs on civilized principles. There, besides the governor, there is scarcely a white man in authority. They have two public libraries, a press, and the journal of the colony. "The Liberian Herald" is edited by a negro, the son of a slave of Virginia, and frequently contains able dissertations written by men of the same race. At this time many of the natives reside in the colony; and are gradually adopting the habits of civilized life. Many come thither for the express purpose of obtaining a christian education, for which purpose, also, many of the native kings continue to send their sons. Missionaries of various denominations have penetrated into the neighboring states, and all have sent cheering accounts of their success and prospects."

With this representation of Governor Buchanan corresponds, the statement of the Rev. W. G. Crocker, a missionary of the Baptist Church, communicated to the Corresponding Secretary in a letter, dated Edina, October 9, 1839. "From the general view which I have of the colonies, their prospects appear more encouraging than heretofore. There seems to be an increasing interest felt in regard to agricultural pursuits. This is a favorable omen, for agriculture is the only firm basis on which their temporal prosperity can rest. I should think that more than three times the quantity of rice has been raised at Edina this year than has been raised here since the town was settled, and the present prospect is that a much greater quantity will be raised during the next year. All that seems necessary, to secure to the inhabitants a comfortable and substantial support, is persevering industry."

It is particularly gratifying to notice, that notwithstanding the discouragements which may be expected in their transition from one continent to another, where the climate is so different, and the modes of living and the habits of the inhabitants, vary so materially from those to which they had been previously accustomed, our emigrants afford every evidence of contentment and happiness in their new homes. Mrs. Haynes, a colored woman who embarked with her family, in July 1836, mentions in a letter to the Corresponding Secretary, dated Edina, May, 1839, "death has taken away my affectionate husband, and I am now a widow; but Jesus is my friend, and I have found him a very present help in Africa, and through all my troubles, I have not felt as if I wished to return to the United States. My husband's dying words were that I should remain in Africa with the children, and that the Lord would provide. Dear Sir, though many are my privations, yet I bless the Lord that I am here, and although a widow, I feel satisfied to spend the remainder of my days in Africa, and may the Lord spare my children to prove a blessing to this country; will you accept a widow's thanks for what you have done for us, the good Lord will reward you, and all those that labor with you, for what you have done for us." Mrs. E. Dutcher, a colored woman who emigrated from this city to the colonies, some time since in a letter to her sister, dated Millsburg, May 20th, 1839, gives the following account. "Dear Sister.—As I presume you will wish to hear how we are getting along in Africa, therefore I take the present opportunity of writing you a few lines by the Saluda, and inform you that we had a very pleasant passage out, being only 31 days. This is a delightful place indeed, there is no doubt that any one who is disposed to work at all can get a living in Millsburg, there is as much land as you choose to take up, and you may plant whatever you choose. The people enjoy themselves quite as much as the freest white men in America, and we are very well satisfied with the place. I have never witnessed so much piety in all my life as I have seen since I have been here, and no one could be otherwise than satisfied if they are disposed to be satisfied at all."

J. T. Roberts a colored man was among the first who emigrated to Africa, and by his honorable enterprize as a merchant, has acquired an independant fortune. He visited this country during the last summer for mercantile purposes, and soon after his return to Liberia, sent to a correspondent in Philadelphia the following letter. "Monrovia, Nov. 7, 1839. Dear Sir.—From the caption of this letter you will perceive that I am again on terra firma, in the land of the free and the home of the oppressed. Rejoice with me for I assure you, Sir, that I was heartily sick of America, and rejoiced when they said, "Embark and be off;" we had a fine passage of 38 days from Norfolk. Peace and concord prevailed among all, and the missionaries were very agreeable. I find things at home better than could have been expected; the colony decidedly advancing—much however remains to be done. Gov. Buchanan's health is now good, and allow me to assure you that he is an efficient man; he has already given things a new spring, and should his health be continued I hesitate not to say that within 12 months the colony will be advanced 50 per cent. This is saying much, but if the friends in America will sustain him, it will be verified. In Gov. B. I think they may repose full confidence, for as a business man, he has not been excelled by any agent of the Society. I have a box of curiosities all packed, but the vessel goes to-night, and it is impossible to get them off, but I will send them by the next opportunity with a larger selection. Believe me, Sir, you will always be gratefully remembered by T. J. Roberts."

These extracts from letters received during the last season from our colonists in Africa, we will conclude with the following remarks of another emigrant who has resided in that country nearly 15 years.—"I passed as a freeman in America, but I never knew what liberty was until I came to Africa. I cannot conceal my feelings in relation to our condition in Liberia. Animated therefore by the past, and encouraged by the bright prospects which lie before us let us proceed undauntedly in our noble career. Let us appeal to the pious, the liberal and the wise; let us bear in mind the condition of our fathers when assembled on the shores of America, they embarked amidst the scoffs and false predictions of the surrounding multitude, and after braving the perils of the ocean, and of the forest they succeeded in laying the foundation of this infant Republic. Undismayed by the fears of the timid; let us implore the aid of the American people, and redoubling our labor, and invoking the assistance of an all wise providence, let us anticipate the complete success of our undertaking."

The following representation is given, by Capt. Waters, Commander of the Saluda on his recent arrival. "The Liberians generally are much pleased with the new organization of their government. They are now satisfied that the American people are determined through the Colonization Society, to elevate them to that rank which it would be impossible for them to attain in this country. Probably there never has been a period since the formation of the Society, when the colony has been so prosperous as at present. The climate which has been generally regarded as very sickly, appears to have undergone a surprising change. At my arrival after each voyage I lived on shore, and was not confined to my room, or disqualified for my business by a day's illness. Not one of the emigrants whom I took out on my first voyage, had died at the time of my second arrival; all had gone through with the acclimating fever, and were in perfect health. This fever it is ascertained yields to the simplest remedies; the mortality which has attended it is ascribable in part to the inexperience of the Physicians in the Colonies; but the changes which have taken place in the climate, have undoubtedly had a great effect."

It is an interesting fact in the history of our world, that all enterprises of extensive and permanent utility, acquire the approbation and confidence of the community by slow degrees. That measure which is rashly, and without mature deliberation adopted, is often as hastily abandoned. How anxious, and even agonizing, were the reflections of the pilgrims of immortal memory, before they finally resolved on a removal to the new world,—they calculated the privations to be undergone in leaving kindred and country, and all the comforts of social life; they calculated the perils to be encountered in venturing on the "mountain wave" of the Atlantic; on the horrors of a wilderness untrodden by the foot of civilized man; on an exposure to the rage of savage beasts and still more savage man; and contrasted with these difficulties the advantages to be anticipated as the reward of success;—a retreat from ecclesiastical oppression, an asylum where the ordinances of religion might be enjoyed in purity and peace—an immeasurable field for the extension of the church; and after this mature comparison of advantages and difficulties they resolved on emigration. Long did our venerable fathers agitate the question of their national independence; they counted the cost of entering into conflict with the most formidable nation on the globe; they weighed maturely the possibility and probability of accomplishing their object, and the advantages to be expected as the result of success, and amidst these reflections, the irresolute became emboldened; the distrustful acquired confidence;—and a general union of effort was the result. Similar were the circumstances which characterized the commencement of the colonizing enterprise. The scheme originally conceived in the sympathies, and prayers, and fastings of the revered Dr. Finley, when first proposed met with few to encourage it. However desirable was the proposition for soothing the sorrows of the afflicted African, this method was regarded by some as utterly impracticable, and a benevolent chimera, and by almost all with distrust; but now it is no longer looked upon in the light of an experiment; its practicability has been sufficiently tested, and with each revolving year it is rising in importance, in the estimation of the enlightened and impartial. Letters have recently been received from gentlemen residing in various parts of the Union expressing their approbation of the course pursued by the Society, and their solicitude for its success. The following is from the Rev. Dr. Woods Professor in the Theological Seminary at Andover Massachusetts, dated January 2, 1840. "Many thanks to you, my dear Brother, for favoring me with the seventh report of the Colonization Society: a Society which has always been dear to my heart, but is so now in a still higher degree than formerly. It has my most sincere and devout desires for its growing prosperity; and it has been a subject of rejoicing with me, that it has been becoming more and more, especially of late, an object of public favor. I would hold myself ready to approve, and promote any institution, or effort which promises good to the African race. But for the present I am satisfied that the Colonization Society has chosen the right way of doing good to the colored people, whether bond or free; and every degree of success with which their benevolent labors are crowned gives me heartfelt joy. I have had a pleasing correspondence with Judge Payne of Vermont, on the subject of Colonization, and understand that the cause is gaining ground in that state, as it is in Massachusetts and elsewhere." Intelligence of a similar nature has been received from a clergyman of high respectability in the State of Pennsylvania, dated January, 27, 1840. "I take pleasure in assuring you that within the limits of my observation there is a growing interest in the cause of colonization. I hope that more will be done in this region during the present year than ever before."

A resolution recommending it to the patronage of their people was adopted by the General Synod of the Reformed Dutch Church at its last meeting ; and the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church also adopted the following preamble and resolution. " Inasmuch as the history and progress of American Colonization on the western coast of Africa, strengthen the conviction of its practicability and excellence, therefore, resolved, that we recommend this highly benevolent and important object to the prayers and contributions of the churches under our care." We now merely add the following extract of a letter from the venerable Dr. Alexander, in the Theological Seminary Princeton.

" PRINCETON, April 29, 1840.

" REV. AND DEAR SIR.—In answer to the respectful invitation, to deliver an address at the next Anniversary of the New-York Colonization Society, with which I have been honored, I beg leave to say, that while various reasons will prevent me from appearing as a public speaker, in behalf of this noble cause, I am cordial in my attachment to it ; and willing to exert any little influence which I may have with the public in promoting it.

" After much serious deliberation, it is my fixed opinion, that the plan of colonizing the free people of color on the western coast of Africa, promises more benefit to the African race in this country, than any other which has been devised ; and as it relates to the great continent of Africa, it is a scheme fraught with so many, and such great blessings, that I cannot but think, that it is beyond comparison, the most important enterprize which has originated in our day. It also appears, with increasing evidence, that the efforts of this Association has met with the special smiles and approbation of heaven ; the success which has attended the plans and exertions of the society, is truly astonishing and highly encouraging. The only objection which I could conceive, when the enterprize was first proposed, was its impracticability, without the effectual aid of the government, but my fears have not been realized ; and more has been accomplished, than the hopes of the most sanguine friends of the cause, ever anticipated, within so short a time. The principal difficulties have certainly been overcome ; a territory of wide extent has been secured, and a happy and well governed colony now flourishes, at different points, on that very coast, where the iniquitous slave-trade has been more extensively carried on, than any where else ; and impartial history will testify, that you have done more by these small colonies, to give a check to this nefarious traffic, than has been done by the whole British and American Navies. And it is now reduced to a moral certainty, that the trade will never be destroyed by any other means, than planting colonies all along the coast, where it has been carried on ; and by entering into habits of commercial intercourse with the tribes in the interior of the country. The Africans, in their own country, are not a stupid race, but considering their want of education, are a shrewd people, and they will soon understand, that all their wants can be better supplied, by receiving such articles as they need, in exchange for the productions of their own country, than they now are by the sale of slaves.

“ Every intelligence from Monrovia fills me with pleasure and astonishment. I do not expect perfection in human beings, any where, in this world ; but the state of society in your colony, approximates as near to it, as in any other condition of the human race with which I am acquainted.

“ I am Rev. and Dear sir, with sincere and unabated zeal for the success of the enterprize to which you are devoting the latter days of an active and useful life, with the highest respect, yours &c.

“ A. ALEXANDER.”

Another clergyman residing in the Western part of our State gives the following assurances in a letter dated March 6th 1840. “ The colonization cause I think is gaining a stronger and stronger hold in the confidence and affections of our people ; all the efforts of its opposers redound to its good.”

It has uniformly been avowed as the persuasion of this Society from its origin, that the diffusion of christianity through the continent of Africa, and the establishment of its benign institutions are the only perfect and permanent remedy which can be provided for those evils political and moral, which exist in its population ; it is therefore gratifying to notice that the same principle is recognised by the Society, instituted in England, for the Abolition of Slavery. "It is the unanimous opinion of this Society, that the only complete cure of all these evils, is the introduction of christianity into Africa. They do not believe that any less powerful remedy will entirely extinguish the present inducements to trade in human beings, or will afford to the inhabitants of those extensive regions a SURE foundation for repose and happiness."

The Missionary aspect of the colonization scheme may be considered as constituting its brightest and most prominent feature ; it contemplates not merely the temporal welfare of the African population among ourselves, but also the immortal interests of more than a hundred millions on another Continent ; and viewed in this light, it has attracted the attention, and secured the co-operation of every religious denomination in our country. In that field the Methodist, the Baptist, the Presbyterian, the Congregational and the Episcopal churches, each have their laborers actively employed, and through their instrumentality the wilderness has begun to blossom, and many a barren tree is rendered productive "in the fruits of righteousness." In that dark, long neglected region of the earth, the celestial light is now beaming upon the eyes, and the messages of mercy sounding in the ears of thousands "who formerly had neither heard the fame of Jesus, nor seen a ray of his glory."

About sixty missionaries, either regularly ordained ministers of religion, or teachers imparting christian instruction are occupied in the colonies, or around them among the native tribes. Connected with the Methodist denomination, as appears from their recent report, there are now employed in this region "17 Missionaries and 10 teachers together with a printer, and a Missionary Steward who have the charge of its temporal interests, and also a Physician." "Our appropriate business" the report also states, "is with the colonists who may be there, with the natives to whom we have access, that we may convey to them the gospel of the grace of God, and aim at bringing them into the fold of Christ ; and by means of schools, manual labor schools, and the press to enlighten their minds, instruct them in the arts of civilized life, and thus train them up for usefulness here, and for eternal life hereafter." The following interesting account relative to the progress of the gospel, among the natives at Heddington in the interior of Africa, is given by the Rev. G. Brown, missionary in that station to Dr. Bangs of this city, dated September 26, 1839. "Under God I have charge of a most interesting little flock consisting of fifty-nine native converts, and I entertain a full confidence that all of them have undergone a saving change. O! it would cheer your heart to attend one of our prayer meetings; to see the "Greegree man" dethrone his idol or god in whom he trusted until his head was grey with age, but now cast the dumb idol into the fire, look up and pray to the eternal God: to see the warrior laying aside his spear upon the ground, kneeling in devotion to Israel's God. O Sir, could you hear the bell ringing in this dark forest, and see the scores of natives flocking to the mission house, singing,

"Blow ye the trumpet, blow, the gladly solemn sound."

"Here are the fruits of your labors, prayers and money; God has given you a hundred fold this year: O christians, pray that he may sustain us in the glorious work, that his name may be honored to whom everlasting praise and thanksgiving are due."

There are thirteen missionaries connected with the Presbyterian and Congregational church, with a printing press publishing religious tracts in some of the languages of the native tribes. It is stated that in less than two years, 10,872 copies of 13 separate books and tracts have been published in the native language; that the seminary has 45 pupils about 20 of whom can read with ease and fluency books in their own and the English language."

There are under the supervision of the Protestant Episcopal church 14 missionaries and teachers at Cape Palmas, and at the out stations Blegheh or Graway on the coast 8 miles from Cape Palmas; Booley 12 miles from the cape. One of their missionaries writes to the board. "My labors at Bliore have been continued with little interruption on every Sunday morning since I last wrote to you. The most interesting of my duties thus far have been those connected with the school at this place. The boys are uniformly cheerful in their labors and seem to hail them as agreeable relaxation rather than a task. As an incentive to industry each boy is given a small piece of land to be cultivated for his own use on Saturdays and their leisure seasons. I shall as soon as possible endeavor to form amongst them a regular missionary society and to induce every one to contribute something from his "farm" towards the cause of Christ; what a foundation for good may we not hope to lay in thus training 30 Children for the service of God? The male and female schools are now entirely distinct, except that all assemble regularly morning and evening for family worship and religious instruction." The Rev. Mr. Payne one of the missionaries writes, April 9, 1839, "I continued to preach regularly in Bliore in the full confidence, notwithstanding the increasing evidence of the awful depravity of the heathen, that in due time I shall reap if I faint not. The more I see, the more thoroughly I am convinced that we should not be impatient for immediate accessions to the church of God from among them. I would therefore have impressed upon our friends that they must expect us to labor for sometime before we see much fruit, and their most hearty prayers are requested to make our feeble instrumentality successful to the conversion of those for whom we labor." We will merely insert the following remarks of Dr. Savage, after his return from a visit to the United States. "Upon the whole, I found things on my return in such a condition as to call for great gratitude, and bid us look forward to the future with encouragement. We have striking proof in my absence that the Lord's hand is spread over this little vine; and furthermore that we are in favor with the heathen. May the God of Missions vouchsafe a continuance of his blessing and cause us soon to see trophies of his grace in this benighted land."

The following intelligence has been received from the Rev. Mr. Clark, missionary of the Baptist church dated Edina, June 20, 1839. "The native school is becoming increasingly useful, and the pupils are making good proficiency in their studies; some of them being able to read English and Bassa tolerably well, to write legibly, and exhibit some knowledge of Arithmetic, Geography and English Grammar." It is also stated that the Rev. Mr. Crocker is preparing for the press a portion of the New Testament which he has translated into the Bassa language ; and he mentions in his diary, "I visited the town of King Joe Harris, who received me very kindly, and promised that if I would come and live with him and teach his people he would build me a house. I preached the first time to his people on the existence and character of God, and they listened very attentively, and the King again requested me to reside with him. I endeavored to make them understand the way of Salvation by Jesus Christ and also preached on the institution of the Sabbath and the duty of observing it."

Probably no measure since the establishment of the colonies has been more interesting in itself, nor more favorable to their advancement in civilization than the adoption of their general government, and the organization of their legislature under its authority, of which Governor Buchanan in his recent communication to the Corresponding Secretary gives the following account. "Here every thing is encouraging, we have just closed the first session of our Colonial Legislature under the new Constitution which was held for the purpose of perfecting the organization of the government, and adapting the regulations of the two colonies to the new order of things. The session occupied about three weeks in which time we performed a large amount of business, and made some radical changes in the several departments of government and all was conducted from the beginning to the end in the most perfect harmony. I could have wished that some of our opposers in America could have looked into the Council Hall and witnessed the deliberations of these representatives of a free people. The utmost courtesy and urbanity were manifested by the members towards each other, even when engaged as often happened in earnest and impassioned debate, and though I have often seen more parliamentary tact displayed elsewhere, I have never seen more sincerity or conscientious regard to the interests of their constituents by any legislative body. I have the high gratification to inform you, that my efforts for the suppression of the slave-trade have been nobly seconded by the colonists, and that we have completely succeeded in expelling the slaves from our waters, and have thrown great obstacles in the way of those who act beyond the bounds of our jurisdiction. In all our relations with the native tribes we enjoy peace."

The promiscuous intercourse of the sexes, and the frequent violation of the marriage covenant have proved the principal occasion of vice among the colored people and tended much to their moral degradation. Every friend therefore to their temporal and spiritual welfare must feel gratified to notice the following law enacted at the late session of their Legislature.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Governor and Council in Legislature assembled,—That from and after this date all persons who at the time of their arrival in this Commonwealth, shall be living and cohabiting together as husband and wife shall previous to their admission to the rights and privileges of citizens, or any of them, be cited by the clerk of the court of the quarter sessions of the county in which they may be, to appear; and in his presence and in the presence of each other be required, solemnly to acknowledge and declare themselves to be bounden and lawful husband and wife, and to recognize all the duties of that relation.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted,—That it shall be the duty of the clerk of the said court, to record in the records of the same the said acknowledgment, which record shall forever thereafter be full and sufficient evidence of the marriage of the parties therein named.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted,—That no person who shall be living and cohabiting together in manner aforesaid; and who shall refuse or neglect to obey the citation of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions, and to make the aforesaid acknowledgment and declaration shall be entitled to draw or hold lands in the colony or enjoy and exercise any of the rights and privileges peculiar to citizens of the same, until and unless they shall have applied for, and undergone a legal and formal marriage solemnized according to the customs and forms of this commonwealth.

SEC. 4. Be it further enacted,—That a certificate of any marriage solemnized, whether by a minister or any other person according to the usages or customs of the State, or place from whence the person or persons may have come. The producing of a certificate by either of the parties interested in the proof of the marriage, shall in all cases be deemed sufficient evidence of the marriage of the parties interested.

The education both intellectual and moral of the rising generation, has been regarded in every age, as the foundation of national prosperity and grandeur. The mass of their population must be enlightened and virtuous, if the nation expects to remain free. It may therefore be considered an auspicious presage of the rising respectability and future eminence of our colonies that provision is made for the establishment of common schools as appears from the adoption of the following regulations.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Governor and Council of the commonwealth of Liberia, in Legislature assembled,—That there shall be established in each settlement and township, that is or hereafter may be formed in this commonwealth one common school, the same to be under the supervision or control of a school committee, to be created for that purpose by the governor and council.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted,—That to each school there shall be a teacher whose appointment shall come from the governor and school committee, and that said teacher be required to conform to such instructions as may be furnished him relative to his duty as instructor.

SEC. 4. Be it further enacted,—That all infractions of order by any scholar thereto attached shall be referred to said committee, who shall be clothed with power to act on all such cases, as to them may appear the most prudent for the good of the community.

SEC. 8. Be it further enacted,—That all persons shall be bound by law to send their children to school, (provided their ages vary from five to twelve years,) and whosoever fails to comply with the above requisitions, shall without excuse be compelled to pay a fine of three dollars, said fine to go into the hands of the school committee for the benefit of the school.

SEC. 9. Be it further enacted,—That the governor and council recommend to the board of directors of the American Colonization Society, the appropriation of a tract of land of one mile square in each township of this commonwealth, for the benefit of common schools.

The diffusion of knowledge among citizens of every class, is the basis on which a representative government must be sustained, and is under providence the principal guarantee of permanency to their free institutions. This fact which has governed the policy of the American patriot and statesman, as the means of securing perpetuity to our own happy republic, appears also to be the policy of our colonies in Africa, and for promoting this general diffusion of information, the following regulations have been adopted for the establishment of Post Offices in their various settlements.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Governor and Legislature of Liberia in Council assembled ; and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same,—That there be a post office department for this commonwealth, and that the colonial secretary be ex officio post master general.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted.—That a post office be established in each of the towns of Monrovia, Marshall, Bassa-cove, Millsburg, Caldwell and New Georgia.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted.—That there be appointed at each place post masters, and that a carrier of letters be employed to convey the mail containing such letters, newspapers or pamphlets as may be forwarded therein, and that a fixed rate of postage be established, not exceeding twenty-five cents per hundred miles for each single letter, and a mean rate for mean distances, to be collected by the said post master, which shall go toward the payment of the expenses of the establishment, and the balance to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 4. Be it further enacted.—That the several post masters make full and accurate returns on the first Tuesday in each month to the post master general of all letters received and forwarded from their respective offices, and on the same day (if not otherwise directed) to pay over to the post master general all moneys in their hands.

SEC. 5. Be it further enacted.—That the several post masters, excepting the post master general, be allowed fifteen per cent on all moneys received by them for postage, as a full compensation for their services.

It is an interesting fact, a fact evincing the excellence of our divine religion, that institutions making provision for the infirm and the indigent are found only in Christian countries. Greece, Egypt and Rome, could boast of their temples consecrated to their imaginary divinities ; monuments erected to perpetuate the memory of their heroes, and poets, and sages ; but they provided no hospitals, no alms-houses, no asylums for the insane, or the blind, or the deaf, or the dumb, for the widow, or orphan, or fatherless : these and similar institutions are exclusively the offspring of Christian philanthropy, it is therefore gratifying to notice these benevolent establishments incorporated among our colonies at so early a period in their history.

"SEC. 1. Be it enacted and ordained by the Governor and Legislature of Liberia in Council assembled,—That the support and maintenance of aged widows, destitute orphans or poor persons, and invalids, shall be borne by this commonwealth out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted,—That asylums shall be provided for such classes of individuals as are named in the first section, on the principle of manual labor schools, in each of the counties of the commonwealth and that a superintendant be appointed by the governor and council, whose business it shall be to superintend and manage the entire concerns of the said institution.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted,—That all persons, inmates of these assylums not disabled from disease or otherwise shall be employed in the cultivation of a farm, which shall be connected with the establishment, and the profit arising therefrom shall go to the use of the institution ; any tract of land not otherwise appropriated may be used for the present establishment.

SEC. 7. Be it further enacted,—That in each of the counties of this commonwealth, there shall be one or more asylums established on the plan suggested, and to which paupers, whether natives or colonists, shall be admitted, where they shall be fed, clothed, educated, and instructed in agriculture or in some useful branch of a mechanic art if they are of a proper age.

The following laws have been enacted for the promotion of Temperance in the colonies.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Governor and Council of the Commonwealth of Liberia in Legislature assembled,—That from and after this date, the importation of all and every species or quality of ardent spirits into the Commonwealth, be and the same is hereby prohibited, excepting in such quantities as may be necessary for the medical department; a committee to consist of the Governor, or in his absence the Lieutenant Governor, the Physicians and the Apothecary shall determine, from time to time what quantities of alcohol, and other kinds of ardent spirits may be required for the use of that department, and the care of all such ardent spirits shall be committed to the apothecary who shall not allow it to go out of his charge on any pretext whatever, unless by regular prescription from a physician.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted,—That if any individual, or individuals be found drunk in the streets, of any of the settlements in this Commonwealth, he, she, or they shall be taken immediately and confined in jail till they get sober.

SEC. 5. Be it further enacted,—That any Port Officer, Justice of the Peace, or Constable who shall have knowledge of smuggling into, or selling of ardent spirits being carried on within the limits of this commonwealth, and do not proceed forthwith to have such offender or offenders apprehended, and brought to justice, such officers so neglecting their duty shall be fined in a sum not less than two hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars.

The warm attachment still cherished by the colonists toward this country as furnishing the elements of their rising respectability, and their solicitude for our national prosperity appear by the enthusiasm with which they celebrated the anniversary of our independence and their effusions of gratitude on that occasion as represented in Africa's Luminary:—

“ Fourth of July, in Monrovia.

“In the bosom of every lover of liberty what emotions has every recurrence of this day the power of awakening? The Fourth of July gave birth to a nation, gave birth to liberty—from it, future ages will date the emancipation of the world. Where is the man who does not devoutly wish, let it be kept in perpetual remembrance: that the citizens of Liberia are ever ready to join heart and hand with the American citizens in rei memoria perpetua, let the events of this day be a witness. Ere the morning dawned, the citizens of Monrovia were aroused by the cannon's roar and the rocket's meteor blaze: all, all, unequivocally declared "we celebrate independence, in one of the temples which she herself has erected." His Excellency Gov. Buchanan, not only true to his trust as the head of the embryo Republic; but as a true citizen of that state (New York) which is the pride of his country, and the representative of that nation which is the glory of the whole earth, had spread a table around which the sons of Liberty might assemble and enjoy all the blessings, which the valor of '76 had purchased for them:—After refreshing themselves with its viands, the following among other toasts were drank:

By JOHN N. LEWIS, Esq.—Our Governor—May his excellency's health be preserved; the interest he has manifested in the affairs of the colony be continued; and his plans for its present and future prosperity be abundantly successful.—(cheers)

"GOV. BUCHANAN.—The day we celebrate—The virtues it commemorates are those which dignify human nature and which alone can give stability and lustre to national character. May they here flourish in all their native vigour and beauty, and the Fourth of July, be ever hailed with delight by every true hearted Liberian.—(Long and loud cheering)

"LIEUT. GOV. WILLIAMS—The Hon. Henry Clay—The long tried friend of Colonization, and worthy President of the society."

"REV. J. EDEN—Colonization.—One of the most benevolent and heaven-born schemes that ever came to earth. May its roots strike deeper and deeper, and its branches spread wider and wider, until every oppressed son of Africa shall safely lodge under its branches."—(Long and loud cheers.)

"MAJOR PROUT.—The Memory of Gen. Washington.—The friend and promoter of virtue, liberty, and independence.

The interesting consequences connected with the success of colonization are concisely and comprehensively exhibited in the following eloquent appeal of an enlightened philanthropist of this city which it affords us pleasure to incorporate with this report.

“Whether we consult, then, the interest of our own country as politicians—whether we keep in view only the prosperity of our own commerce, manufacturers, and agriculture, and desire to promote our own pecuniary advantage and that of our descendants—or whether we have in view, as philanthropists, the augmentation of the sum of human happiness, and especially the annihilation of that great source of human misery, the slave-trade—or whether we desire to obey the mandate of our divine Redeemer, by sending his gospel to all nations and by procuring for others a participation in that salvation in which we ourselves rejoice; in all these points of view we have reason to advocate the cause of African Colonization. In all these points of view we are bound to bid its friends and patrons God speed, and according to our ability to furnish some aid in promoting the attainment of their object; promoting our own national prosperity; promoting the present and eternal well-being of a large portion of the human race, and hastening the coming of that period when at the name of Jesus every knee shall bow.”

Such is the present condition of our colonies on the coast of Africa, and such our prospects of diffusing through a continent blessings civil and religious, which the arithmetic of mortals cannot calculate; and who that feels for the honor of their Master, or the eternal welfare of man would refuse to co-operate in the prosecution of this enterprize? who would not wish to assist in drying up the tears of the afflicted, disconsolate African, and restoring him to that elevated position in the family of nations from which he has been torn by the intrigue or violence of other portions of the human family? who would refuse to co-operate in bringing to the possession of the Prince of Peace, a region where for ages untold the torch of war has been blazing forth with its most terrific horrors? who would not contribute some portion of oil to that lamp which has already shed its radiance on the western coast of a continent covered with darkness more dense than Egyptian. If there is joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, what must be the effusions of joy among its holy inhabitants at the conversion of all these hundreds and thousands and millions who through coming ages may be brought to glory by the execution of a scheme, projected in the purest Christian philanthropy, and now in successful operation. "Instead of the thorn, may we behold the fir tree growing up, and instead of the briar, the myrtle tree which shall be to Jehovah for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off."

EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY
OF THE
COLONIZATION SOCIETY, OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The Colonization Society of the City of New-York, celebrated its Eighth Anniversary in the Middle Dutch Church, on the evening of Wednesday, May 13th, 1840; and in the absence of the Rev. Dr. Milnor, the President of the Society, the chair was taken at half-past seven o'clock by the Rev. Dr. DeWitt. A hymn composed by Mr. J. D. Weston, Cleaveland, Ohio, appropriate to the occasion was sung with very happy effect by the choir of the church, after which the 60th chapter of Isaiah, was read by the Rev. Mr. White of Owego, N. Y., and the throne of grace addressed by the Rev. Dr. Humphrey, President of Amherst College, Mass.—Letters were read addressed to the Rev. Dr. Proudfit, the Corresponding Secretary, from the following gentlemen:—the Hon. Elijah Paine, of Vermont; the Rev. Professor Holditch, in the Wesleyan University, Middleton, Conn.; Hon. Joseph Ingersol, Phila.; Hon. Henry Clay, Washington, and the Rev. Dr. Alexander, of Princeton, New-Jersey, expressing their regret that the pressure of other avocations prevented them from attending; renewing also their assurances of confidence in the cause of Colonization, and their solicitude for its prosperity. Extracts from the report of the Managers were then read by the Rev. Dr. Cone, of the Baptist Church, N. Y. A resolution "that the Report of the Managers, an abstract of which has been now read, be printed under the direction of the Executive Committee," was offered by the Rev. Joel Parker, pastor of the Tabernacle Church, N. Y. and seconded by the Hon. Heman Lincoln, of the Baptist Church Boston.

2. "Resolved, That the opinion recently expressed by a British Philanthropist, 'that the African Slave trade can only be suppressed by the civilization of the people and the development of the resources of that continent,' is in accordance with the views uniformly expressed by this Society." Offered by the Rev. R. R. Gurley, and seconded by the Rev. Dr. Miller, of Princeton.

3. "Resolved, That the Clergy and Churches of every religious denomination throughout the Union be earnestly requested to unite their contributions for the cause of Colonization, on the 5th of July, the Sabbath immediately succeeding the anniversary of our National Independence." Offered by the Rev. Dr. Bethune.

As the evening had elapsed and the audience appeared deeply interested in the discussion, a resolution was offered and adopted for adjourning until Thursday.

Thursday, May 14th, the Society convened agreeably to adjournment, the Rev. Dr. Spring, Vice-President in the chair. The meeting was opened by reading the 72d Psalm, by the Rev. Mr. Rodgers, New-Jersey, and prayer offered by the Rev. Dr. Clark, of Stockbridge, Mass. The resolution offered by the Rev. Dr. Bethune was more fully discussed, and seconded by the Rev. Dr. Laing, New South Wales.

Resolutions accompanied with appropriate addresses were afterwards presented by Rev. Mr. Pinney, formerly Governor of Monrovia, by Col. Wm. L. Stone, and others. The addresses offered by the various speakers, were in general, of a superior order, and eminently calculated to give an additional impulse to the cause of Colonization. We regret that they cannot appear in this report, for the gratification of our readers. The audience retired at a late hour deeply impressed with the magnitude of the enterprise and resolving to prosecute the scheme with increasing ardor.

The tendency of the Colonization scheme to the suppression of the Slave trade, and the exertions of our vigilant Governor for the annihilation of that inhuman traffic, wherever his influence extends, are satisfactorily exhibited in the following documents :

Proclamation by his Excellency, Thomas Buchanan, Governor of Liberia.

Whereas the laws and constitution of this commonwealth, forbid all intercourse of every kind and nature whatsoever, between its citizens and persons engaged in the slave trade : and whereas every act of aiding and abetting, and all intercourse tending to countenance the traffic in slaves, is made felony by the laws : Therefore be it known,—That all laws and enactments, and ordinances of the commonwealth in relation to the slave trade, will be most rigidly enforced upon every person who may be found guilty of violating them, All persons therefore, are admonished to abstain from aiding or abetting the slave trade, and from all intercourse with persons engaged in that traffic. The officers of the commonwealth, civil and military, and all good citizens are expected, and called upon to support the dignity and authority of the laws, and to assist in enforcing a prompt obedience to them.

Given at Monrovia, this fifth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight hundred and Thirty-Nine.

THOMAS BUCHANAN, GOVERNOR.

The following is the form of treaty entered into between Governor Buchanan and the native kings :

GOVERNMENT HOUSE, Monrovia, April 6th, 1840.

It is hereby agreed between Thomas Buchanan, Governor of the commonwealth of Liberia, and Kings Brister, Bromly and Peter, and Mama Kenzie and King Willey :

1. There shall be perpetual peace between the colony and the above mentioned chiefs.
 2. There shall be no slave trading within the jurisdiction of said chiefs, nor shall they have intercourse with those engaged in the slave trade.
 3. All disputes occurring between the colony, or colonists, and of the said chiefs, or their people, shall be settled in friendly palaver with the Governor at this place.
 4. Free and safe conduct shall be given by said chiefs to any of the colonists passing through their country, and they shall be liable for the protection of said colonists in person and property.
 5. There shall be no war made by any of said chiefs without the consent of the Governor. Neither shelter nor protection shall be given to Gay Toombay, who is now at war with the colony ; but the utmost diligence and endeavor shall be used by said chiefs to catch him and deliver him to the Governor.
- While the conditions of this instrument are complied with, the said chiefs shall enjoy the protection of the colony.

In witness whereof we have, this sixth day of April, 1840, subscribed our names.

THOMAS BUCHANAN, Governor,

King Bromly, X. King Brister, X. King Peter, X. Mama Kenzie, X. King Willey, X.

Signed in the prescnce of—Long Peter, X. Tom Freeman, X. J. L. Lewis,
